

2008 Historic Resource Survey
North Side, City of Granbury
Property No.: 91
609 North Crockett

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil Filling Station

Preservation Priority:

High—Contributes to Recommended Historic District

Recommended Historic Landmark/RTHL/National Register Listing

These are the most significant resources in the survey area and they contribute to local history or broader historical patterns and possess strong association with (a) historic context(s). High priority properties are outstanding or unique examples of architecture, engineering or crafted or vernacular design. These properties retain a high degree of architectural or physical integrity, having few alterations, or can be easily returned to their original character. High priority properties may meet one or more criteria for listing in the National Register of Historic Places; they are likely to qualify to be designated as Recorded Texas Historic Landmarks and City of Granbury Historic Landmarks.

Construction Date:

1927

Resource Type/Subtype:

Building/Commercial

Current Owner(s):

Laurel Pirkle

Stylistic Influence:

Italian Renaissance Revival

Brief History:

Moved from West Hubbard Street in Mineral Wells to Granbury in 2004 to save from neglect

Area(s) of Significance:

Architecture, Texas energy industry

Description of Resource:

Brick construction, brick exterior

Hipped roof, metal shingles

One bay drive-through

Double-hung, wood windows, with transoms

Single-door primary entrance with transom

Classical columns supporting drive-through

Rectangular plan

Slab foundation

One story

Integrity:

Design, materials, workmanship, feeling, association

Possible Threats:

None

Existing Historical

Designations/Protections:

None